BRITISH TROOPS LAND NORWAY

NORWAY GETS AID OF BRITISH TROOPS IN DEFENSE NATION

NEW BLOWS RAINED ON INVADERS BY BRITISH SEA AND AIR STRENGTH

By The Associated Press.

Great Britain announced today that her forces "now have landed at several points in Norway" while the combined might of British sea and air strength rained new blows on the German invaders.

Disclosure that troops had arrived raised the veil on how Britain intended to fulfill her pledge to the embattled Norsemen that "help is coming."

It also explained the ferocity of Britain's week end raids on Germany's footholds in Norway, especially at Narvik, where the British reported seven German destroyers sunk Saturday, and at Stavanger, where British warplanes have made repeated raids.

Not only were the British striking at Germany's sea lines of communication with her expeditionary army, it appeared, but also were covering transports bearing her own troops and supplies to Norway.

In Washington, President Roosevelt expressed the determination of the Western Hemisphere to "live in peace and make that peace secure."

Addressing the governing board of the Pan-American Union on the observance of that organization's 50th anniversary, Mr. Roosevelt said the 21 American republics could keep open the way to eventual peace "only if we are prepared to meet force with force if challenge is ever made."

Landing Place Not Divulged.

Where the British landed or in what number was not divulged by the war office and admiralty, but it was believed in London that Narvik and Stavanger were logical jumping-off points for the British.

Norwegian advices reaching Stockholm said a British landng force had gone ashore at Narvik under the protective fire of warships commanding the city's sea outlet, Rombaks Fjord.

They said the Germans had withdrawn into the interior and were caught between the British in Narvik and Norwegian forces, now fully mobilized in that area.

Britain previously had given no confirmation to recurring rumors that her forces were on the way to battle the Germans.

From Berlin came the German assertion that no British troops had landed anywhere on points occupied by German forces, including Narvik. It was admitted, however, that the British may be somewhere along Norway's jagged 1,000-mile coast.

Both sides, meanwhile, reported new successes in the far-flung fighting.

Sea Fighting Reports.

Britain declared two German transports were sunk and that four torpedo hits had been scored on a transport convoy attacked in the Skagerrak.

Germany announced two more allied submarines had been sunk in the Skagerrak and a Norwegian torpedo boat captured.

CENTRALIZED ROAD AND BRIDGE SYSTEM UNDER DISCUSSION

HARRISON COUNTY PLAN LAID BEFORE COMMISSIONERS COURT MONDAY

Discussions of the Harrison county plan of a centralized road and bridge system were held at a county-wide meeting with the commissioners court Monday morning. Several addresses were made, but much of the time was spent in a round-table question and answer forum with Harrison county officials answering queries from interested citizens and officials.

No definite action was taken at the meeting, following the suggestion of R. W. Knight, manager of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, who arranged the meeting, to allow the citizenship more time to study the proposed plan, and also not to force an issue on the commissioners court until everyone had studied the proposition from every angle and knew what was desired and what was to the best interests of Navarro county. Some of the audience wanted a decision made Monday. Many proponents and opponents of the plan were on hand, it was indicated by questions and statements from time to time.

All members of the commissioners court were present Monday except T. P. Hayes of Precinct 1.

Judge Miller Presided.

County Judge Paul H. Miller presided and stated the purpose of the conference was to discuss from a practical side the proposal as it might be applied to Navarro county.

Judge Reagan Huffman of Marshall, Harrison county; Harold Henderson, Marshall county engineer, and Curtis Morris, Longview, tax expert of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, were visiting speakers.

Mr. Morris said the Harrison county plan and a similar plan in McLennan county (Waco) showed fine results and that Tarrant county (Fort Worth) recently had adopted a similar system. He made the statement that McLennan county by the end of 1940 would have all county roads all-weather affairs. He said some features of the unit system had been in vogue in McLennan county for the past 24 years. McLennan county work has been done with a road and bridge rate of 15 cents and with little bond issue or WPA funds.

Morris made the statement that had Navarro county started such a system 24 years ago, "most of you would be on all-weather roads." He expressed the belief that under the present system of precinct road work in Navarro county the system of all-weather roads will never be provided, while he expressed a belief that under the unit system, it is possible in time.

The Tax Dollar.

County Judge Huffman referred to 8060 taxing units in the State of Texas, empowered to assess and collect taxes. He declared that the people should see that every dollar of tax money is spent judiciously, and asserted that from 50 to 65 per cent of the money going into the county treasury is related to road and bridge expenditures. "You should demand the road and

GERMANS CLAIM THIS SHOWS DESTRUCTION OF A BRITISH WARSHIP

German sources which released this picture Sunday night said it shows a British destroyer (background) being destroyed by a German warship somewhere off the coast of Norway. Note shell splash before smoke. The attacking German vessel, marked with Swastika on deck, is in the foreground. This picture was transmitted by radio from Berlin to New York.

Strict Control Of Danube River Traffic Monday

BUCHAREST, April 15.—(AP)—Strict control of Danube river traffic was enforced by Rumania today following German threats to send gunboats down the river immediately to protect German shipping from alleged "English sabotage."

A Rumanian government spokesman said strong river patrols had been organized "to maintain peace and order on the Danube."

The spokesman said the control system had been worked out with other Danubian neutrals.

This was presumed in Bucharest to mean Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Hungary, each undertaking closer policing of its stretch of the river.

Some sources regarded this development as an attempt to eliminate any possible pretext for Germany to send armed forces into these neutrals' territorial waters.

NATION LEARNED OF DEATH OF LINCOLN 75 YEARS AGO TODAY

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(AP)—Resting the piece of paper on the crown of his beaver hat, Secretary of War Stanton wrote out a dozen words 75 years ago today:

"Abraham Lincoln died this morning at twenty-two minutes after seven o'clock."

Thus the nation learned the fatal climax of history's most tragic piece of play-acting. Despite the happy odds against it, John Wilkes Booths wild assassination plot had succeeded.

The president lay dead in a crowded first-floor bedroom in Mr. Peterson's boarding house across the street from Ford's Theater, where he had been shot the night before.

A group of Lincoln admirers assembled today in the old boarding house—now a museum—to pay informal tribute to the Civil War president.

Mystery Ship Is Sighted Hurrying Toward New York

NEW YORK, April 15.—(AP)—An armed mystery ship hurrying toward the United States, apparently to transport horses to the war front, was reported by the Norwegian liner Bergensbjord which arrived today.

Captain Matthew Anzjon said he sighted the vessel off Nantucket Island, Mass., yesterday, beating such a fast course toward New York that the Bergensfjord had to change her direction momentarily to avoid crossing her bow.

The ship, a passenger-freight vessel was of characteristic German construction, Anzjon said, but had no identifying marks, and he believed it was in British service.

She had some extra superstructure near her stern of a sort ordinarily used on ships handling livestock, the captain said, although it might have been gun screens or other camouflage.

GERMANY REPORTS TWO MORE ALLIED SUBMARINES SUNK

NAZI SOUTHERN FORCES CLAIMED HAVE CRUSHED NORWEGIANS AT OSLO

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN, April 15.—(AP)—Germany today announced two more allied submarines had been sunk in the Skagerrak, a Norwegian torpedo boat captured and a German merchantship sunk by British air raiders at Bergen.

Establishment of a strong British naval blockade of Narvik, important northern Norwegian ore port, also was acknowledged by the Germans who said their southern forces had "crushed" Norway's attempt to mobilize in the Oslo region.

The high command, in a communique, declared the two new submarines raised to seven the losses of allied undersea craft in recent days.

Two British air raiders who sank a German merchantship at Bergen subsequently were shot down, the communique declared.

Shedding only scant light on Germany's land operations in Norway, the communique reported capture of Honfoss in the Oslo area and said Norwegian efforts to mobilize had been "crushed" in that region.

The captured Norwegian torpedo boat Hval will be put into service with a German crew, the announcement stated reporting quiet on the western front but that two British planes were shot down.

Authorized sources acknowledged that contact had been broken between King Haakon and the German minister to Norway, Kurt Brauer.

PRESIDENT CALLS FOR PREPAREDNESS AS PEACE GUARANTEE

TERMS WARS ABROAD MORE HORRIBLE AND DESTRUCTIVE THAN EVER

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—Terming wars abroad "more horrible and destructive than ever," President Roosevelt said today the 21 American republics could keep open the way to eventual peace "only if we are prepared to meet force with force if challenge is ever made."

Mr. Roosevelt spoke before the governing board of the Pan American Union on the observance of the organization's 50th anniversary and proclaimed a determination of the Western hemisphere "to live in peace and make that peace secure."

In words broadcast throughout the nation and transmitted abroad by short wave, the President designated no belligerent by name when he used these words apparently directed at recent European developments:

"We of this hemisphere have no need to seek a new international order; we already have found it. This was not won by hysterical outcries, or violent movements of troops.

"We did not stamp out nations, capture governments, or uproot innocent people from the homes they had built. We did not invent absurd doctrines of race supremacy, or claim dictatorship through universal revolution.

"The inter-American order was not built by hatred and terror.

"It has been paved by the endless and effective work of men of good will."

Introduced by Hull.

Introduced by Secretary Hull, the President spoke slowly without a single smile or any of his usual play of humor. Around a big mahogany table were gathered the diplomats of Latin America who comprise the governing board of the Pan American Union.

GENERAL SUPPORT FOR GREATER NAVY SHOWN IN SENATE

PASSAGE OF HUGE FLEET EXPANSION APPROPRIATION IS PREDICTED

WASHINGTON, April 15—(AP)—Bi-partisan support for a navy second to none was increasing in the senate today, leading influential members to predict prompt approval of a $655,000,000 fleet expansion measure.

The house bill authorizing a five-year schedule of funds for building 43 ships came before the naval committee for hearings (at 9:30 a. m., CST). High naval officers and a dozen civilians were asked to testify.

Besides the authorization measure, the senate will take up this week the $964,000,000 annual appropriation bill for the navy. Senator Byrnes (D-SC) predicted its approval without changes, despite an effort by Senator Adams (D-Colo) to eliminate funds for one of two battleships proposed in the bill.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), usually an administration critic, told reporters that "the naval program should be pushed to full expansion."

He took issue with Adams' contention battleship construction should be held up until experts could analyze the effectiveness of such vessels in the European war.

Senator McCarran (D-Nev), another frequent opponent of the administration, asserted:

"We must go ahead and build a navy that is second to none. Of course, we could make the mistake of pushing the program too fast, but that would be a lot better than pushing it too slowly."

Senator Connally (D-Texas) said that "a superior navy" was essential to American safety.

STOCKHOLM REPORTS LANDING OF BRITISH TROOPS IN NORWAY

ALL GERMAN WARSHIPS IN NARVIK REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN SUNK

STOCKHOLM, April 15.—(AP)—British forces were reported today to have landed in Narvik under the protection of naval shellfire which drove the Germans from the northern Norwegian ore port into the mountainous interior.

The British warships which raided Narvik Saturday, apparently preparatory to a landing by British soldiers or marines, were said to have the city under control of their guns.

This report, from the Norwegian radio at the port of Bodo, south of Narvik, followed a Norwegian army communique reporting that Norwegian troops north and west of Narvik were ready to attack the Germans.

The Norwegian commander said the German forces had retreated hastily and were believed to be incapable of strong resistance to the Norwegians who, he said, are now fully mobilized in the north.

These sources said that all German warships in Narvik, hopelessly outweighed by the stronger British naval force, had been sunk while trying to keep the British out of Rombaks fjord, which controls the port.

(The British have said seven German destroyers were sent to the bottom in the Saturday raid. It is acknowledged in Berlin that the British have achieved a naval blockade of Narvik).

Forced Mouth of Fjord

According to the Norwegian version, the British battleship Warspite, screened by a division of destroyers, forced the mouth of the Fjord. Norwegians considered it unlikely that the Germans would be able to land troops in Narvik again.

They said that there had not been any heavy British bombardment before landing forces were sent ashore but that Narvik's biggest building, the new Hotel Royal, had been destroyed.

In southeastern Norway, sporadic fighting between German and Norwegian forces brought the invading nazis nearer the Swedish border.

The Norwegians, meanwhile, were urged to greater efforts by their aging sovereign, King Haakon VII, who last night broadcast an appeal to his people to fight on for "freedom and independance."

The king, who has been driven from town to town by pursuing German bombers since he abandoned Oslo with his government last week, spoke from an unidentified station somewhere in the interior.

Fighting Losing Battle

Despite the king's appeal, the country defenders appeared to be fighting a losing battle on the southern front.

Swedish authorities announced that 3,000 Norwegians, seemingly hard-pressed, had fled across the frontier near Halden at the southern-most tip of Norway and had been disarmed and interned. The Germans were said to have driven several miles beyond Halden to

BRITAIN CONTINUES TO STRIKE HAMMER BLOWS AT GERMANS

LANDING BRITISH TROOPS AT SEVERAL POINTS IN NORWAY ANNOUNCED

By HUGH WAGNON

LONDON, April 15.—(AP)—Great Britain announced today she had landed soldiers at several points in Norway to press the war against the German invaders while her navy and air force hurled new bolts at the nazis in widespread sections in and around Scandinavia.

The brief statement in a joint war office-admiralty communique that British troops are on Norwegian soil capped a week-end crammed with these reports by the British:

1. The laying of a huge mine barricade across the entire German Baltic coast from Kiel Bay to Lithuania.
2. The torpedoing of the 10,000-ton German pocket battleship Admiral Scheer by the British submarine Spearfish. The admiralty did not say whether the Admiral Scheer was sunk.
3. The sinking by British submarines of two German transports, bringing to 12 the total of transport and supply ships reported sunk in recent days. The admiralty also said its submarines scored four hits on a transport convoy in the Skagerrak.
4. Continued British aerial raids on Stavanger and on Bergen. A gasoline dump was believed destroyed in a night raid, the fifth since Germany's invasion, at Stavanger and the admiralty said one German transport was set afire at Bergen.
5. A British naval squadron, led by the battleship Warspite, on Saturday sank seven German destroyers at Narvik, northern Norwegian ore port.

Occupied Narvik.

While official information was lacking on the number of men and the points where the British expeditionary force landed, Norwegian sources said the British occupied Narvik in the far north.

Other points considered among the most likely landing places are Namsos, about 100 miles north of German-held Trondheim and Andalsnes, about 100 miles south of Trondheim.

Prime Minister Chamberlain conferred today with Clement Attlee and Arthur Greenwood, opposition labor leaders.

It was reliably stated that he informed them he would make a full statement tomorrow in the House of Commons on the British landings in Norway.

(Germans in Berlin acknowledged that Narvik was blockaded while German defensive works were reported being strengthened at Trondheim, Bergen, Stavanger and Kristiansand.)

Seven Nazi Destroyers Sunk.

British warships were reported to have destroyed seven German destroyers in Narvik harbor, in northern Norway, Saturday.

The fifth British aerial attack upon Stavanger, a port on the western coast and near the southern tip of Norway, was said by the British to have been perhaps the most effective raid there.

The British said that one pilot

TWO FEDERALLY CONSTRUCTED CAMPS AWAIT 'GRAPES OF WRATH' MIGRANT FLORIDA WORKERS

BELLE GLADE, Fla., April 15.—(AP)—Two federally constructed camps will await several hundred families of Florida's "Grapes of Wrath" migrant farm laborers if they are [illegible] week from tumbledown living quarters condemned by the state bureau of sanitation.

Here, along the Lake Okeechobee shore in a vast vegetable growing area some 30 miles west of Palm Beach's Gold Coast, migrant workers and their families are living under conditions a state health committee compared with those described in the book, "Grapes of Wrath."

State sanitation inspectors plastered condemnation notices on more than 500 habitations and ordered the occupants to correct the situation by April 16 or move out.

The farm security administration rushed to completion a 176-family camp for white workers and another of 358 units for negro field laborers. These camps, the first constructed east of Texas, cost $600,000.

FSA officials said the camps could not [illegible] all of the migrants (it was estimated more than 20,000 are in the area) but that they would care for about 2,250. Three other camps have been planned.

The camps offer a minimum of decent living facilities, with most of the houses single room shelters built of pre-fabricated steel walls and concrete floors.

THIS WORLD WAR HERO LOOKS PART OF TOP SERGEANT, WHICH HE WAS; PLANS MOVIE CAREER

By HAROLD RATLIFF

DALLAS, April 15.—(AP)—You would say at first glance that the big fellow with the square jaw and pugnacious nose was a top sergeant.

He looks like a top sergeant, he talks like a top sergeant.

And, coincidentally, he was a top sergeant in the World War. His name is Elmer Guthrie and he captured so many Germans they gave him a bushel basket of medals. After the war he became a top-flight wrestler, once claiming the light heavyweight championship of the world.

Guthrie is looking forward to negotiations toward re-enactment of his exploits in the movies.

Right now he's getting acting experience in the role of top sergeant in a Dallas American Legion play.

He might have already been adept at acting had he not deserted wrestling ranks just when the boys started all this "showmanship" stuff.

Guthrie is credited with capturing 89 Germans at one whack.

He barely lost the title "the greatest civilian soldier of modern time" to famed Sergeant Alvin C. York when General John J. Pershing started picking has heroes after the war.

He went across with Company E, 353rd Infantry of the all-Kansas 89th Division, serving more than 21 months in the war.

He won the Distinguished Service Cross of the United States, the Croix de Guerre of France, the Distinguished Service Order of England and the Medal for Military Valor of Italy.

REPORTS OF TROOPS LANDINGS INDICATE ALLIES IN CONTROL OF NORWEGIAN SITUATION NOW

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The sensational word of the landing of British expeditionary forces at several points on Norwegian soil means that the allied success in the battle for Norway has increased and that they control the situation at this juncture.

These landings represent coordination with the almost unbelievable feat of the English in breaking through the dangerous, narrow waters of the Kattegat from the North sea into Herr Hitler's own private Baltic sea and mining it clear from Kiel to Lithuania.

The allied efforts to oust the Germans from Norway will progress in such degree as the Anglo-French are able to sever Nazi communications with the north.

The mine-laying, while lacking the spectacular aspects of conflict attendant upon landing of troops in the face of enemy resistance, likely transcends in importance the landings themselves.

Indeed, it seems to me that it may prove to be one of the key-developments of the entire war.

This estimate must be qualified by the proviso that, pending further details, the mine-field is really the substantial affair which the British announcement indicates.

If you will glance at your maps you will see the significance of this is that the Anglo-French brotherhood couldn't carry out a major move of this sort without having at least temporarily seized control of both seas which wash Germany's northern coast.

This means that if the allies are able to maintain the position of control they will have severed the reich entirely from all direct communication with Scandinavia.

That would be a severe blow to

CLOUDY AND COLDER WEATHER IS FORECAST WEST TEXAS TONIGHT

LAST WEEK'S FRIGID WEATHER CAUSED HEAVY DAMAGE IN SOUTHERN STATES

By the Associated Press

Cloudy and colder with prospects for rain tonight in west Texas was the weather outlook for Texas today after a weekend respite from spring cold.

Meanwhile, farmers in many southern sections ruefully checked up on frost-withered leaves, buds and plants as a result of last week's belated thrust of winter.

Losses totalling millions of dollars for southern farmers, fruit and truck growers were estimated.

Alabama's loss alone was estimated by Extension Editor P. O. Davis as "several million dollars." South Alabama's cotton, strawberry and Irish potato fields suffered particularly.

Georgia's peach crop also damaged to some extent—truck crops also were hit in some areas of that state.

Nearly all the young cotton plants were killed in the Shreveport, La., area and, with rising temperatures, farmers hitched up their teams today to begin re-planting. Louisiana's fruit crops and truck, par-

U. S. AND CANADA

It is rather surprising to find Gordon Conant, attorney general of Ontario, which is the biggest and most populous province in Canada, urging farmers and business men to "do everything within their power to enlist the active support of the United States in the cause of the Allies."

He is quoted as saying that the success of the Allied cause may be "very doubtful" without our active participation in the war, and that no sacrifice on the part of Canadians will be too great if this can be accomplished.

"If the United States wants to build the St. Lawrence waterway," he adds, "by all means let us join them. If they want access to Alaska over Canadian soil, there should be no hesitation in settling the matter. In fact, nothing short of impairment of our status as a sovereign nation would be too much for Canada to offer as a sacrifice on the altar of liberty and freedom."

This is the most frank bid for participation in the Allies' war that our country has yet had. And Mr. Conant is, perhaps, to be respected for his frankness. He can now be told, just as frankly, that Americans have no desire and no intention to enter the present European war, and are not even thinking about it.

If we Americans were to fight another foreign war, we would fight it quicker for Canada than for any other country. And we would doubtless go to Canada's help if any foreign power invaded it. That would be a part of our own self-defense. But we see no such peril on the northern horizon at present.

CONFUCIUS BUILT WELL

How have the Chinese people been able to endure the vast hardships, the enormous suffering and destruction, imposed on them by the Japanese invasion? They seem not only to have survived, but to have strengthened their spirit and made notable progress as a nation, in spite of the loss of millions of lives and billions of dollars' worth of property.

The matter is explained by Kung Sam Lee, a Chinese business man now in America. Mr. Lee, an unusual combination of religious enthusiast and practical patroit, thinks the Chinese cannot be conquered, for these reasons.

The cruelty of the Japanese, in their military invasion, has driven the Chinese to unity. This was possible because the Chinese, in spite of their vast numbers, already had a national culture. Confucianism had welded many nations into one. They had no religious division, like western nations, and they had a universal written language. They have been accustomed to hardships for centuries, from natural catastrophes, and so could endure the war better than a western nation could.

RICHES.

Riches are what the heart desires
And be they silver coin or gold.
Birch logs for winter's cheery fires,
Broad acres long to have or hold
By them man's sum of years is told.

Run at the last the lifetime through
And count the riches left behind
Many the minted coins or few,
Or treasures of a different kind.
Trinkets that grace both heart and mind.

Hear the grave priest at last relate:
"Here lie a gentle life and good;
One that set blossoms at the gate,
Did with all tasks the best it could,
Loved much and deeply understood.
"What are its riches? Tears today
And memories that shall long remain.
Mind not at all what lawyers say,
'Tis these this life was spent to gain,
And winning these no life is vain."

PEOPLE WANT TO KNOW

Last year several thousand persons made a nature tour of Starved Rock State Park in Illinois. They were led by a staff of experts, including scientists from various educational institutions in the state.

A similar tour has been announced for April 27 and 28, and it would not be surprising if the number of eager nature lovers attending this year exceeded last year's total. The method followed divides the large crowd into small groups or classes for each particular study, to make it easier to observe details and to satisfy the special interests of individuals. Some people are more interested in geology, others in birds, and so on.

Heavy [illegible] is merely one example, of [illegible] [illegible], of the [illegible] [illegible] zest of the [illegible] public for knowledge and instruction in many different lines. What is it all about? And what will Americans do with all the facts they are accumulating at lectures, in study groups and on historical tours, nature trips and public affairs forums?

One thing is certain. Americans are no longer limited to their interests, as foreign critics have long said, to money-making.

POLES IN BONDAGE

The conquered Poles under Nazi rule seem to be suffering the fate of the Jews. And not merely the Jews of today, but those of ancient Egypt. As more and more Germans are fed into the vast Nazi war machine, Poles are drafted to take their places.

They may not have to "make brick without straw" but they are made to do the hardest kind of work, and are said to be given just enough rations or money to keep them alive. They live under very primitive conditions, and are obliged to wear a yellow badge two inches high with a purple "P" for "Polish" on penalty of a heavy fine and imprisonment.

These workers are taken from their families and sent wherever they may be needed in Germany. About 150,000 Poles are said to be already reduced to this servitude, and it is expected that hundreds of thousands more will suffer the same fate.

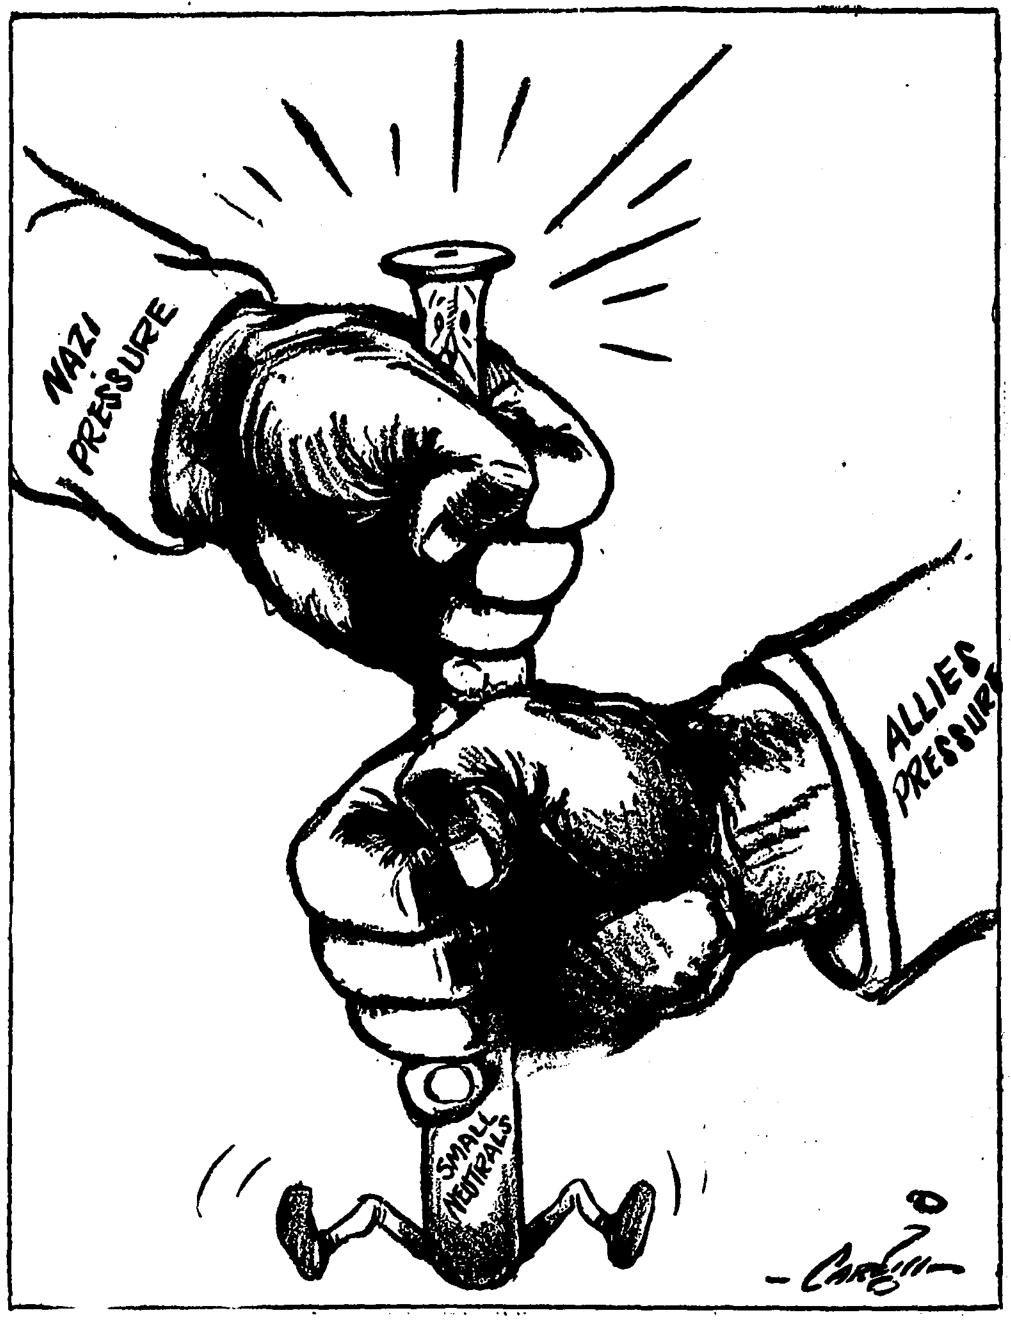
They cannot revolt, either, from their bondage. Pharaoh Hitler will hardly let them go. They have no Red Sea to cross and no Promised Land to enter.

BRONZE DOORS FOR GUNS.

Not content with combing Germany for old iron and begging housewives for their copper pots, the government is stripping bronze from its public buildings. The most conspicuous example so far is that of Chancellor Hitler himself, contributing the great bronze doors of the Reichs Chancellery and junking its splendid candelabra for this cause.

This sort of thing can hardly be a mere gesture. It must mean that Germany is growing desperate for war metals, that the iron ring around her is squeezing hard.

WHO WILL GET THE UPPER HAND?



DAIRYMEN WITH GOOD PASTURES CAN SAVE MONEY

COLLEGE STATION, April 13.—(Spl.)—Dairymen with cows on good spring pasture can save money by making a slight change in feed.

Usually cows are fed a 22 per cent protein grain mixture during the winter when the roughage consists of hay or silage. A lot of dairymen feed their cows the same grain mixture in the spring.

That is where they are making a mistake, according to E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service.

Early spring grass is high in water, protein and minerals but low in corbohydrates. That means that the protein should be cut down to from 10 to 14 per cent.

Wheat, oats, clover and young sudan pasture, are especially high in protein, and a 10 per cent protein grain mixture does the job. Spring mesquite, buffalo, dallis or carpet grass needs to be supplemented with a 12 per cent protein mixture. Bermuda or rhoda grass needs a 14 per cent supplement.

Here are some sample grain mixtures: 22 per cent protein—100 pounds ground ear corn or maize heads, 100 pounds wheat bran, and 100 pounds cottonseed meal; 14 per cent protein, same except only 20 pounds of cottonseed meal; 12 per cent protein, same except only 10 pounds cottonseed meal; and 10 per cent protein, 100 pounds ground ear corn or maize heads and 80 pounds wheat bran.

Since spring grass is high in water, cows should be offered all the dry hay, bundle feed, or cottonseed hulls they will eat—usually 5 to 10 pounds per day per cow.

American Farm Bureau Federation Opposes Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, April 13—(AP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation, through its president, Edward A. O'Neal, opposed the Patman bill to tax chain stores today as "punitive," and contended that it was unlikely to eliminate unfair or monopolistic practices.

The Federation's views coincided with those expressed recently by Secretary Wallace, who wrote the house ways and means committee that the legislation would tend to "discourage and destroy" efficient and low-cost methods of distribution.

HIGHWAY DAMAGE IN NAVARRO COUNTY BY HIGH WATER HEAVY

Exact extent of damage sustained by state and federal highways in Navarro county incident to the recent overflows of Trinity River and Chambers and Richland creeks has not been determined, but maintenance officials and Texas Highway department admit it is considerable.

Highway 287, State Highway 22, has been closed for several days in Trinity River bottoms in the northeast corner of Freestone county. The low dump spanning the bottoms west of the river bridge was covered with the overflowing Trinity for several days this week. The roadbed is feared damaged and traffic has been held off pending a complete check.

Considerable damage was sustained on Highway 75 on the dump approaching the bridge and levee on Chambers creek when quantities of the earthen dump slipped. Other minor damages were done dumps and abutments.

County commissioners also report the county dirt roads were washed badly, especially in the bottoms where high waters swept over the roadbeds and in many instances swept away abutments and washed out culverts. The high waters washed many ditches deeper and wider and undermined some roadways.

A complete check has not been made of roads in some of the bottoms.

THOMPSON DECIDES RUN FOR CONGRESS TO SUCCEED JONES

AUSTIN, April 13.—(AP)—Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo intimated today he would continue as a member of the Railroad Commission until after the impending congressional election in the Panhandle district.

He had announced last night that he would run for congress to succeed Rep. Marvin Jones, who will resign to become a member of the United States Court of Claims.

The commissioner said he had no intention of resigning before the election and might not give up his state position until the start of the next session of congress. If and when he resigns, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel will appoint someone to serve until the next general election.

Thompson said the special congressional election possibly would be held July 27, date of the statewide first democratic primary.

LARGEST FIELD OF PROSPECTIVE HOME OWNERS OVERLOOKED

HENRY HEYN ADDRESSES CONTRACTORS, MATERIAL MEN AND REALTORS

Corsicana realtors, material men, contractors and others were told Thursday night by Henry Heyn, chief evaluator for the Dallas office of the Federal Housing Administration, they were overlooking one of the largest fields of prospective home owners in the low income groups.

The meeting was held in the offices of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce and R. W. Knight, organization manager, called the meeting to order and expressed the support of the chamber for more home ownership. He presented J. Max Montgomery, field representative for the FHA, who explained some technical points for the various interested parties, and showed slides of several recently completed low cost units.

Mr. Heyn was then presented along with Ray Coffman and Bert Caughran, staff evaluators. The speaker reported a total of 73 applications received from Corsicana since 1935 with a total value of more than $280,000. He listed them as follows: 1935-36, seventeen applications amounting to $50,075 and averaging about $3,000; 1937, nine for $23,025 and averaging $2,556; 1938, 23 amounting to $91,825 and averaging $3992; 1938, 21 amounting to $99,775 and averaging $4751; and so far in 1940, 3 amounting to $16,000, averaging $5333. The total was listed at $280,700.

The speaker insisted the true value of a continuous construction program had not yet been visualized by the dealers, and contractors, pointing out that most of the money earned by building workmen was spent immediately and their instant employment aided material men, realtors, surveyors, furniture dealers, abstract and insurance firms, lending institutions, city and county governments, lawyers, utilities, newspapers and others.

Reporting on a study of living conditions in Corsicana based on figures from the 1930 census, Mr. Heyn said it was estimated a decade ago that 1798 persons in the city owned their homes, and that more than 2200 families lived in rented homes, and more than 84 per cent of them paid rents of $30 per month or less. He insisted the low cost housing field was wide open, any many opportunities were being overlooked. Under the new program, Mr. Heyn insisted none of the minimum FHA requirements were being relaxed but that great savings could be made in almost every set of plans by the construction of houses which included only those things needed for comfort and with all luxuries eliminated.

A question and answer period closed the session.

Heavy Frost Here Saturday morning

There was a heavy frost Saturday morning and the temperature again dropped to 32. It is too early to determine the damage, if any, by the frost, but it is expected to be light.

The records show frost on April 2 and 3, 1936, and again on April 10, 1938, indicating that frost is not unusual in this month.

ALLEGED KIDNAPER, BANK ROBBER AND KILLER IS SLAIN

T. J. (RED) GOLEMAN KILLED IN BATTLE WITH OFFICERS NEAR KOUNTZE

BEAUMONT, April 12.—(AP)—Texas officers wiped the slate clean today for T. J. (Red) Goleman, alleged bank robber, slayer and kidnapper who fell mortally wounded in a blast of gunfire when he attempted to resist arrest near Kounte, northwest of here.

Deputy Sheriff J. Howard Allen of Jefferson county identified the man, cornered in a corn crib at a farm house, as the red-headed bond-jumper charged with the $12,000 holdup of the Hull State Bank.

The shooting occurred late last night when Hardin and Jefferson county officers trailed Goleman through the Big Thicket area to the farm home where he was sighted in the yard.

Goleman took refuge in the corn crib and when ordered to come out opened fire.

Sheriff Miles D. Jordan of Hardin county and Sheriff W. W. Richardson and Deputies Homer French, Edgar Poole and Allen of Jefferson county, participated in the gunbattle with Goleman.

He was indicted at Corpus Christi on a charge of murder of "Four Eyes" Brown early last year. Brown's body was found floating in the Nueches river. Goleman skipped bond of $5,000 in that case.

Goleman was identified as one of two men who last summer walked int the Hull bank, locked two women employes in a vault and escaped with $12,000. Arrested a few days later, Goleman led officers to a portion of the loot but refused to name his companion.

Francis Elva Smith is now on trial in Liberty on a charge of being Goleman's accomplice.

Goleman, placed under $6,000 bond and released, jumped the bail.

He allegedly kidnaped and robbed Chester Lockley, Beaumont taxi driver, taking his car after shooting and beating Lockley. The automobile was later found.

Goleman also was blamed for several other kidnapings and was indicted for robbery of the Kirbyville bank but another man confessed the crime.

He had used the Big Thicket, a vast expanse of timber land in East Texas, as a hideout.

MUCH INTEREST IS SHOWN IN MATTRESS MAKING PROGRAM

Considerable interest is being shown in the mattress demonstration program in Navarro county according to Miss Clara E. Rettiger, home demonstration agent, who reported Monday more than six hundred applications had been received in her office.

The initial order for cotton to be used in the program was placed Monday, and 48 bales or sufficient material for 480 units was sought. This number of applications from low income farm families have been approved by the county committee of the Agricultural Conservation association. Families eligible under the present program are those with 1939 incomes under $400, and the applicants may be either farm owners, tenants, sharecroppers, or laborers.

Miss Rettiger reported meetings had been held in communities in practically all parts of the county where centers will be established for the work. The applicants will make their own mattresses at the centers under trained supervision and according to definite standards. Fifty pounds of cotton and ten yards of ticking are to be used in each unit.

GERMANY

man army commander in Norway, demanded Norwegian submission under threat of death, and that of King Haakon declared Norway's will to fight..

Still, however, Germany does not consider herself at war with Norway although authorized sources pointed out that Germans were seizing Norwegian men-o'-war and arms wherever they were found.

Germany still considers herself Norway's protector against British invasion. Since resistance is being offered, however, German, "to avert the possibility of great bloodshed" must—so it is argued here—nip this resistance in the bud.

From the standpoint of international law, it is stated emphatically, no change occurred over the week end in German-Norwegian relations. The Norwegian legation in Berlin has not turned over its affairs to a third power nor have the minister and legation staff left.

Norway Confused.

The opinion of authorized sources is that Norway herself is confused over the situation. The King, urging resistance, addressed the nation from an undisclosed place, it was pointed out, while Major Vidkun Quisling, self-named head of a Nazi puppet regime in Oslo, was urging quiet acceptance of the German occupation.

"We are certainly not sabotaging his efforts to establish order," these sources declared although they stressed that Germany does not recognize him as the lawful head of the Norwegian government.

According to information in official German hands, these sources said, there have been clashes between police and citizens in various places in Norway.

Mining of the Baltic by Britain was admitted in part in that these sources said evasively, "there's considerable fantasy connected with that story."

So far as the civilian observer can judge, Germany's chief efforts are directed at converting Trondheim and Bergen into points from which to attack Britain in the near future.

Rail-Water Routes.

It virtually is conceded that are cannot reach Germany from Narvik but Sweden seems to have given assurances that these cargoes could be transported by rail and later, after the Gulf of Bothnia is ice-free, shipped from Lulea by water. (British mining operations on the scale announced in London however would imperil this route.) In some responsible German quarters there seems to be an attitude of gloating over Britain's concentrating so much effort on Narvik while Bergen and Trondheim appear of more strategic importance as bases for German attacks on England.

"Events in Norway already have proven that the British fleet is none too keen to face our air force," one well-informed German commentator said.

Germans insist that there has been no headon clash of the grand fleets but rather that the week of war linked with Scandinavia has been chiefly a series of comparatively minor engagements between segments of the naval forces.

The British admittedly are making dogged but sporadic jabs at the Norwegian coast and the Germans are resisting fiercely, hundreds of warplanes and submarines also figuring in the give-and-take struggle.

Nazis Capture Prisoners.

BERLIN, April 15.—(AP)—DNB, official German news agency, reported today that German forces in Norway had captured 300 prisoners, seven cannon and a quantity of small arms and ammunition southeast of Oslo.

No British Troops.

BERLIN, April 15.—(AP)—German officials asserted today that no British troops had landed anywhere at Norwegian points occupied by German forces, either at Narvik or anywhere else where Germany has established herself, but may have effected landings elsewhere.

Their statement was made in comment on the British announcement that British forces had landed at several points in Norway.

It was admitted that the British may be somewhere along Norway's jagged coast of nearly 1,000 miles. The coast abounds in little hideouts, but these are strategically unimportant, the Germans said.

MACKENZIE

nazi hopes, signalling among other things the ultimate collapse of the occupation of Norway, to be followed by the estblishment of an allied northern front to menace Hitler's right wing.

The development is all the more astonishing since it appears to indicate that Germany's powerful air-fleet either was drowsing or had been driven to cover by allied air-fighters. However, we will reserve judgment on that point until we get further details. What is evident is that there has been steadily growing pressure against the Nazis from the allied air-fleets.

Coincident with the British landings the Germans have admitted that the enemy have established a naval blockade about the beleaguered northern port or Narvik—scene of bloody sea fighting during the past few days.

Meantime the Norwegians are organizing and have been harassing the invaders at various points. Allied bombing and naval operations have continued persistently up and down the coast.

All in all the nazis would appear to be exemplifying the old Oriental adage that he who rides a tiger finds it difficult to dismount.

If the allies are able to maintain their apparent severance of the German lines of communication with Norway, the forces of occupation shortly will find themselves in a most unhappy predicament.

ROOSEVELT

Seated beyond the table in straight gold chairs were the envoys of England, Australia, Finland, China and of many another country outside this hemisphere.

Britain's ally, France, was represented by Ambassador Count De Saint-Quentin. But officials of the Union who directed seating arrangements said nations not represented included Germany, Russian, Japan, Italy, Norway, Sweden, The Netherlands and Denmark.

After the meeting, the President entertained the governing board at luncheon in the White House.

Universal Peace Still Dream.

Mr. Roosevelt said "universal and stable peace remains a dream" and told his listeners to "have no illusions" at a time when "old dreams of universal empire are again rampant."

"In my conception," the President said, "the whole world now is struggling to find the basis of its life in coming centuries."

"We hear," he said, "of races which claim the right of mastery. We learn of groups which insist they have the right to impose their way of life on other nations. We encounter economic compulsions shrewdly devised to force great areas into political spheres of influence.

"All of this is not of mere academic interest. We know that what happens in the old world directly and powerfully affects the peace and well-being of the new.

"It was for this very reason that we have adopted procedures that enable us to meet any eventuality. x x x

Strength Irresistible.

"I pray to God that we shall not have to do more than that; but should it be necessary, I am convinced that we should be wholly successful. The inner strength of a group of free people is irresistible when they are prepared to act."

Asserting that life in coming centuries "must be based on positive values," Mr. Roosevelt said:

"The value of love will always be stronger than the value of hate x x x.

"The value of a belief in humanity and justice is always stronger than the value of belief in force x x x.

"The value of truth and sincerity is always stronger than the value of lies and cynicism. x x x men cannot be everlastingly loyal unless they are free."

In asserting that peace among the American nations was secure because of instruments they had created, Mr. Roosevelt said these instruments embodied in a great measure "the principles upon whch, I believe, enduring peace must be based throughout the world."

Liberated From Fear.

"Peace reigns today in the Western Hemisphere," he said, "because our nations have liberated themselves from fear. x x x

"Peace reigns among us today because we have agreed, as neighbors should, to mind our own business. x x x

"Peace reigns among us today because we have resolved to settle any dispute that should arise among us by friendly negotiations in accordance with justice and equity rather than by force. x x x

"Peace reigns among us because we have recognized the principle that only through vigorous and mutually beneficial internal economo relations can each of us have adequate access to materials and opportunities necessary to a rising economic well-being for our peoples. In every practicable way we are seeking to bring this vital principle to its realization."

Mr. Roosevelt's talk was his first public address since Norway and Denmark were brought within the sweep of Europe's war. In a statement Saturday he had condemned, however, Germany's invasion of the Scandinavian countries.

While expressing a determination that peace should prevail on this side of the Atlantic, the president did not set forth any proposals that mght be termed a "bid to end hostilities" in Europe.

Might Follow Example.

Rather, his address emphasized the thought that Europe might well follow the example of the American republics in reaching a basis for peace. Fifty years ago, Mr. Roosevelt recalled, the inter-American conference at which the Pan-American Union was born, heard James G. Blaine thus express the purpose of the union:

"We believe that a spirit of justice, of common and equal interest between the American States, will leave no room for an artificial balance of power like unto that which has led to wars abroad and drenches Europe in blood."

A half century of unremitting efforts, the president declared, has brought our republics "far along the road that leads to this goal."

The union observed its 50th anniversary at a time when relations between the United States and its 20 neighbors to the south have never been better.

Although a major controversy with Mexico over the expropriation of oil properties appeared a possibility, officials here said that, on the whole, they were well satisfied with international conditions in the New World.

Closer Together.

The seven and a half months of the European war have served to bring the republcs of the Western Hemisphere closer together.

The declaration of Panama, creating the Western Hemisphere neutrality zone, has given these nations a common aim—keeping Europe's war at arm's length.

The republics are joining in common protests against each violation of the zone.

The war is bringing the Americas closer together economically. Cut off from a portion of Europe's markets, they are seeking to extend trade among themselves.

Congress has just authorized an increase of $100,000,000 in the loan posibilities of the Export-Import Bank, into which Latin American republics may dip to finance improvement.

All told, Washington is witnessing a great surgence of activity toward peace and co-operation among the Pan-American nations at a moment when the Old World is torn by strife.

of the coastal command flight, which was said to have returned "without damage," reported a sudden red glow at Stavanger apparently caused by a big explosion, perhaps of one of Germany's hastily-built gasoline dumps.

Germany's novel maneuver in transporting large numbers of troops by planes is causing little alarm to the British, it was said in London.

Neutral military experts expressed belief that the British intended to carry out systematic destruction of inland airdromes and strafe water bases to prevent the landing of troops.

"At the same time," these sources said, "they feel that the allied navies control the seas and can prevent what troops already are in Norway from obtaining heavy guns, mechanized equipment, ammunition and food."

Convoy Attacked in Skagerrak.

The admiralty said that further reports from British submarines "indicate that another two German transports have been sunk and that besides this a convoy of enemy transports was attacked in the Skagerrak when four torpedoes found their mark."

Fifteen airplanes from the British fleet, the admiralty added, made another attack on transports and aircraft in Bergen and "several hits were obtained."

"One transport was set afire, a small storeship was sunk and one large flying boat was machine-gunned and burst into flames," the admiralty added. "One of four aircraft failed to return."

(In Berlin, Germany announced two more allied submarines had been sunk, making a total of seven in recent days, and acknowledged that British air raiders had sunk a Nazi mechantman at Bergen.)

Earlier, the British had reported a successful attack upon the German pocket battleship Admiral Scheer, the laying of a mine field barrier across Germany's Baltic backdoor, and other blows against German naval power.

The British also promised Sweden help if she suffers the same fate as her Scandinavian neighbors, Norway and Denmark, which were invaded by Germany last Tuesday to "protect" their neutrality.

Battleship Successfully Attacked.

The admiralty announcement concerning the Admiral Scheer, sister ship of the ill-fated Admiral Graf Spee which was scuttled after a naval battle off South America last December, said she had been "successfully attacked" Thursday by the submarine Spearfish.

No mention was made whether the 10,000-ton battleship was sunk, but the announcement said she probably had been hit by "more than one torpedo."

Britain's announcement of new mine-laying forays described only in outline the creation of a barricade across the entire German Baltic coast from Kiel to Lithuania. The admiralty kept secret how its ships had been able to penetrate those waters past German-occipied Denmark, but naval observers said the new mine field meant that a total of 100,000 square miles of sea were loaded with explosives, probably the largest naval operation of this kind in history.

The barrier was designed to bottle up any German warships now in port, disrupt Germany's Baltic trade—particularly Swedish iron ore shipments—and head off any German plan to invade Sweden.

(A British broadcasting corporation broadcast picked up in New York said the mine field already was claiming victims when Swedish sailors saw German transports sunk by the mines off Lysekil, Sweden.)

British apprehension concerning the lowland nations was indicated by a warning sent British subjects in the Netherlands and Belgium to be ready to leave those countries.

Man Held Here For Federal Officers

A white man was being held in jail Monday following his arrest Sunday night by city officers pending the arrival of federal officers for investigation of several incidents.

Chief of Police Bruce Nutt said the man was an ex-convict and was alleged to have attempted extortion on a Mexican farm laborer residing near Corbet.

Two negroes were arrested by city officers Saturday night in connection with a burglary attempt on an oil mill. One of the negroes was transferred to county authorities and the other released officers said.

An unusually busy session of the Corporation Court was in prospect Monday with the docket showing two charges of blocking driveways with automobiles, one of disturbing the peace, one of running a red light and operating an automobile with defective brakes, one of speeding, two of intoxication and disturbing the peace, and two of affray.

Automobile Blaze

An automobile blaze at the intersection of North Main street and West Third avenue cause a run for the fire department about 12:30 Sunday afternoon. Little damage resulted.

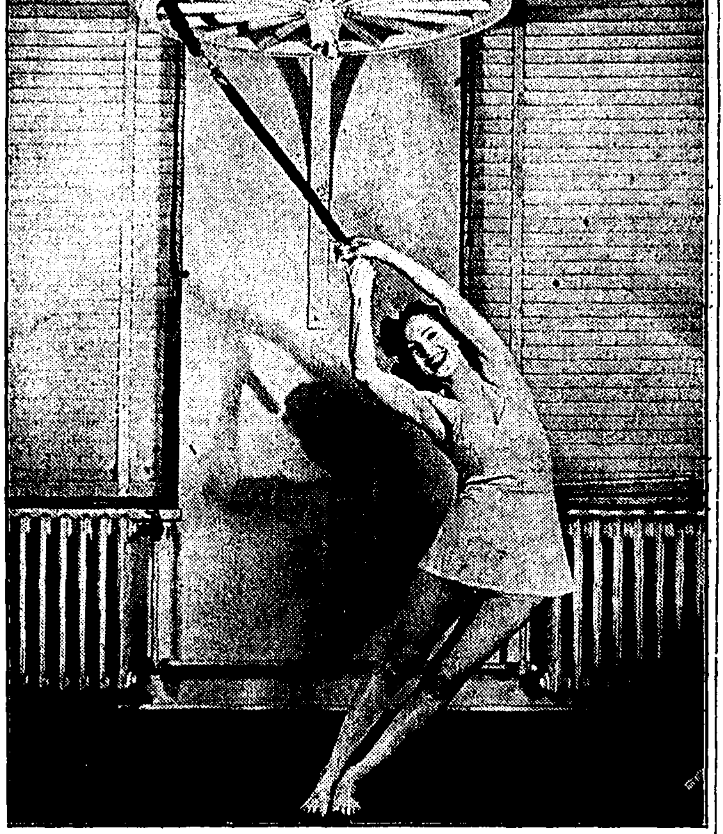
ANOTHER STRETCHING EXERCISE.

Today we give you another exercise that was evolved for the "Wonder Wheel" about which I told you recently. You could duplicate this exercise by hanging a canvas or leather strap on a strong rod or pole that some accommodating male could put up in the basement.



A grand stretch for arms, waistline, hips and legs.

This is a grand stretch for your arms, waistline, hips and legs, because as you will notice, you bend far out to the side until the arm is quite straight. Keep the feet flat on the floor, standing directly under the center. Now slowly drop the body sideways, always keeping the knees straight. Keep bending out to the side until the arm is straightened out. When bending to the left, the left hand should be placed over the right hand; and when bending to the right, the right hand should be over the left. In this position you will get a deeper stretch.

You have probably noticed that I lay much emphasis on the importance of stretching in the exercises which I give you. And this is because it is the best way of reducing and limbering without developing heavy muscles. No woman wishes to exercise so that she suddenly has bulging biceps—let the men proudly display theirs. We want smooth, sleek lines, and stretching exercises are the nicest way to achieve them. It is one of the misfortunes of ballet dancers that their muscles develop so strongly that their legs lose their slenderness and beauty. A little of this work is wonderful for grace and rhythm, but too much is more than enough.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Corbet 4-H Club

In making dresses one should follow the guide of any good pattern, Mrs. John Bennett, sponsor of the Corbet 4-H Club, told the girls at a meeting with Lometa Rogers, April 13, 1940.

The seams should be plain or open-faced, approximately one inch wide from edge to edge, Mrs. Bennett continued.

For material that does not ravel, leave edges unfinished or pinked, for material that ravels, stitch 1-16 inch from edge, or turn edge under and stitch. Hems for school or sport dresses, should be put in on machine, for nice dresses, put in by hand. Sleeves should have Mack French seams, that is, stitch twice on wrong side, 1-4 inch apart, overcast edges if desired. Darts, stitch in place, tie threads in double knot and clip threads. Cuffs and collar should be put on witl bias facing. To join waist and skirt, turn top of skirt 1-2 to 1-4 inch, pin in place on waist of individcal, check by putting on belt, baste, stitch on machine, overcast edges of material if it ravels. Sewing on snaps, hooks and eyes, use buttonhole stitch, sewing on buttons, sew over a pin, fasten thread on wrong side.

After the meeting adjourned the hostess served hot chocolate and cake to six members, sponsor, Mrs. Bennett, and visitors, Mrs. M. O. Bayless and Mrs. A. T. Elmore.

The next meeting will be with Evelyn Burnett, April 20, 1940.—Reporter.

Large Attendance Sunday At Kerens Baptist S.S. Hour

KERENS, April 15.—(Spl.)—Sunday, April 14, was designated as Victory Day by the Sunday school department of the First Baptist church, with a goal of 400 having been set for attendance. Falling only eight short of the number, with 392 present for Sunday school, six additions to the church were received as the 11 o'clock service.

Friday evening marked the close of a well-attended study course, sponsored by the Training Union of the church. One hundred fifty were enrolled, with various books being taught in the different departments of the union.

State workers, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Patterson of Fort Worth, were general directors, with a number of local men and women teaching a book also.

Wheat Prices Advance

CHICAGO, April 15.—(AP)—Wheat prices worked slowly but steadily upward today until May contracts reached $1.09, the peak scored last Tuesday after the invasion of Scandinavia, and July and September contarcts came within fractions of their seasonal highs.

The advance amounted to more than a cent above Saturday's close. War news, fear that hostilities may spread, and pessimistic domestic crop reports inspired the buying which offset hedging and spreading sales as well as some profit taking.

H. C. Donovan, crop expert, completed a trip through important wheat sections of Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, reported he found no improvement in the crop over conditions last December. Despite moisture the past three months, the crop has a very late start, he said.

Wheat closed 5-8 to 1 1-8 cents higher than Saturday, May $1.08 3-4 5-8, July $1.07 3-4 5-8; corn 3-4 to 1 1-8 up, May 60 1-4 3-8, July 61 3-4; oats 1-8 to 1-4 higher.

WAR STOCKS SWING UPWARD MONDAY ON STOCK EXCHANGE

ADVANCE OF FROM ONE TO FIVE POINTS REGISTERED IN MANY ISSUES

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, April 15.—(AP)—Stocks with a war rating swung upward 1 to 5 points in today's market while many leaders elsewhere experienced cosiderable rallying difficulty.

There was a sizable assortment of new highs for the year or longer as aircraft, steels, shipping and specialty issues got well out in front.

After some hesitancy, the steel group stepped out and vied with aviations for popularity. The former lost a portion of their advance in the afternoon, however, when the American Iron & Steel Institute placed this week's mill operations at 60.9 per cent of capacity, off 4.10 of a point from the week before. Most observers had looked for a smal lincrease.

Spread of the European conflict strengthened belief of market analysts that allied purchasing of military and other materials in this country would jump to large proportions in the near future. Business news, on the whole, was also more favorable than otherwise.

Although top marks were lowered in numerous cases at the close, prominent stocks on the worward tilt were Douglas Aircraft, Lockheed, Glenn Martin, Sperry, United Aircraft, Eastern Air Lines, American Airlines, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, N. Y. Chipbuilding, International Paper common and preferred, Celanese, Loft, South Porto Rico Sugar, American-Hawaiian Steamship, National Acme, Macy and U. S. Rubber.

Inclined to lag were General Motors, Chrysler, General Electric, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Kennecott, Southern Pacific and Pennsylvania.

Transfers were about 1,200,00 shares.

Bonds were mixed; commodities pointed higher.

Annual Guest Day Kerens Sorocis Club Enjoyed on Tuesday

KERENS, April 12.—(Spl.)—Annual guest day was observed by the Kerens Sorocis club in an especially charming and lovely way as it met in the home of Miss Louise Blissett on Tuesday at 3 p. m., with Miss Virginia Crowley, Mrs. Newt Stovall and Mrs. Grant Westbrook joint hostess.

Greeted at the door by Mrs. F. E. McCown, with whom Miss Blissett lives, guests were directed to the dining room where delectable ribbon sandwiches, fancy hand shaped cakes, salted nuts and iced fruit punch were served, after which seats were found in the spacious living and guest rooms.

The dining room table with its polished top held in its center an oval mirror plaque which was semi-surrounded with small crystal dishes of gorgeous velvety pansies. A beautiful crystal swan floating on the miniature lake held a burning yellow taper while five branch candelabra holding yellow tapers completed a most enchanting picture.

Mrs. Westbrook, club president welcomed the large assemblage and turned the program over to Vice President Mrs. A. R. Carroll, who explained the year's study of hobbies, most interestingly and announced the afternoon subject as "The Hobby of Life". Picturing the dreams and ambitions of youth, as a mounting of fine high stepping hobby horses, which so seldom took one on the bridle path of realization of hopes, the speaker with well chosen words poetically rhymed, brought one down to a comfortable riding of the old family horse, who, though not so exciting or romantic, was nevertheless life, as we live it.

With this prelude, Miss Cecil Ross in her ever-sweet way, fittingly sang "When You Come to the End of a Perfect Day," as a solo, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. John R. Simmons.

The same theme was further beautifully interpreted by Mrs. C. H. Roberts as she played "Prelude in C Minor," by Rachmaninoff, as only an artist can play.

Mrs. Pete Massey next was privileged to introduce the guest speaker of the day, Mrs. T. B. Thompson of Corsicana, who so inspiringly talked on "Life the Masterpiece." Symbolizing God, the master painter, at work on painting or weaving the tapestry of life, with only the material which we send him, through our deeds on earth, the picture was made most interestingly real, and Mrs. Thompson was hailed by all present as a master speaker and thought provoking lecturer.

Concluding the program Mrs. Monroe Speed in behalf of the club, read an original poem dedicated to Mrs. Grant Westbrook, president, who is leaving Friday, for her new home in Irene, and presented to her as a token of their love and appreciation a beautiful crystal swan.

Among the 45 or 50 guests were the following from out of town Mrs. Cap Curington, Mrs. G. W. Speed, Corsicana; Mrs. R. R. Patterson, Fort Worth; Mrs Morris Brown, Bryan.

Marvin A. Tekell, manager of the Tekell Furniture Co., left today for Fort Worth to attend the annual convention of the Texas Retail Furniture Dealers association which will be held at the Texas Hotel for three days.

British Freighter In Distress.

THOMASTON, Me., April 15.—(AP)—Mackay Radio said it had heard a radio station, presumably Canadian, report that the British freighter Graig's distress signal—sent out early today after sighting a submarine 800 miles northeast of New York—had been "all cleared up" at 6 a. m. (CST.)

Although Mackay explained that "Distress all cleared up" meant that the air lanes had been cleared of the Graig's distress calls and had "returned to normal work with other ships," details of the encounter between the freighter and the unidentified underseas craft remained undivulged.

INTERNATIONAL

The stalemate on the western front was unbroken as French and German forces settled back into their old positions after thrusts into each other's lines during the past 24 hours.

Confirmation, in part, for the British victory reports came from Berlin when the German high command acknowledged that the British had established a blockade of Narvik, Norway's Far Northern ore port and the likeliest toehold for the landing of an expeditionary force.

The Germans, however, did not go all the way on the British reports which included these:

That a belt of mines had been laid from a point off Kiel, Western Germany, through the Baltic to Lithuania, cutting across Germany's innermost maritime lifeline. How this was done without a head-on clash wth the German high seas fleet was not clear.

That the 10,000-ton pocket battleship Admiral Scheer had been "successfully" torpedoed.

Narvik Taken By British.

That Narvik, the object of two bitter naval engagements already, had been taken by the British and the Germans routed over the hills. This report, from a variety of sources, lacked official British confirmation.

That Stavanger, German-occupied port on the Western Norwegian coast, was bombed last night. The London air ministry said all the attacking planes returned home despite fierce antiaircraft fire.

On the Nazi side of the war ledger was the announcement that German troops had "further strengthened and consolidated" their positions in Southern Norway and that seven allied submarines had been sunk in the past few days.

Both sides of the European war traded claims on the shooting down of planes — almost commonplace since Germany swept into Denmark and Norway last Tuesday.

From somewhere in Norway—the locale hidden for fear of German air raids—King Haakon VII urged his people to fight on for "freedom and independence" while Norwegian soldiery still under arms for him appeared to be fighting a losing battle.

German lines, fanning outward from captured Oslo, shoved 3,000 men across the frontier into Sweden. Germany appeared to have occupied most of the territory within a 50 or 60-mile radius to the south, west and north of Oslo.

Italy May Come In.

Caught in the backwash of war, Rome gave fresh indications that Italy—and other nations—might soon be in the swiftest of the current.

Giovanni Ansaudo, who often speaks for Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Cano, declared in a broadcast to the troops yesterday that:

"No people in Europe can isolate itself from the conflict."

Europe's low countries, The Netherlands and Belgium, restive viewers of the spectacle of Denmark invaded without a fight and Norway fighting a losing zattle against the Nai's, maintained alert guard of their frontiers after taking special defense measures.

All these things contrasted sharply to the celebration in the Americas of the 50th anniversary of the Pan-American Union, the bond underlying amity between the United States and her neighbors to the south. President Roosevelt planned a commemorative address for 11 a. m. (CST) today.

On the United States preparedness side, the senate showed increasing bi-partisan support for a navy second to none as a house bill authorizing a five-year schedule of funds for building 43 ships went before a naval committee for hearings.

94th Birthday Of G. W. Speed Was Observed Thursday

KERENS, April 15.—(Spl.)—As is the custom each year, the children of G. W. Speed, who was 94 years old on April 11, met at the family home for a noonday dining on Thursday with all 11 of the children present.

Dinner was served buffet style in the large dining room, guests finding places at small tables placed about the room and two spacious porches.

The lovely birthday cake, which was the gift of a daughter, Mrs. W. L. Bain, was decorated by Mrs. W. L. Bain, Jr., and occupied a place of honor in the center of the serving table.

Sixty-four grandchildren, great-grandchildren and other relatives were present for the dining, with scores of townsfolk calling in the afternoon to pay their respects to the honoree, who, despite the fact he is nearing the century mark, enjoys the best of health, is very active, reads quite a bit, and keeps up with the news of the day via radio, trips in his car, and a daily walk to town.

Among the many guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. John Speed of Sunland, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bain, Kennedy; Mr. and Mrs. John Hays Cameron and children; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sheppard and family, Brownwood; Mr. and Mrs. George Ross and family of Bryan; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Speed, Corsicana; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Arnett, Houston; Mrs. Byron Poston, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Holcomb and Miss Pat Arnett, Gladewater; Mr. and Mrs. Leo McKinney of Tyler, grandchildren; Mrs. Tommie Fine, Rocky Mountain, N. C., and Mrs. Robert Erisman, Ennis, great-grandchildren, and a nephew, Dr. E. L. Rogers, and wife of Winnsboro, La.

Eureka Women's Missionary Society Met Last Tuesday

The Eureka Women's Missionary Society met with Mrs. J. F. Ward on Tuesday, April 9, with sixteen members and one visitor present. The meeting was opened with two songs, and was followed by the devotional brought by Mrs. Ward. Mrs. Will Shields read a poem, "I Know Something Good About You." Mrs. Dave Garrett read a poem titled "Chicken Sense." The waist measure idea brought in quite a few pennies and will bring in more next meeting.

The hostess served a delicious plate of sandwihesc and friut punch.—Reporter.

CORSICANANS PLAN ATTEND SALE PURE BRED JERSEY COWS

Several Corsicanans and Navarro County Jersey cattle fanciers are reported planning to visit Fort Worth on Wednesday and Thursday of this week to attend a sale of pure bred cattle.

Some of the interested parties are reported planning to inspect the herd located near Azle, north of Fort Worth, on Wednesday and then attend the auction on Thursday, with the intention of securing some of the blooded stock for use in building up herds in this county.

Full information concerning the sale and trip may be secured from the offices of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce.

CAPACITY AUDIENCE AT CLOSING SERVICE CHURCH OF CHRIST

The largest audience over to assemble in the edifice of the Fifth Avenue Church of Christ was present to hear Evangelist Perry D. Wilmeth of Houston at the morning service Sunday. After filling the main floor and the balcony, about 100 people had to sit in the basement and receive the service over the public address system. The speaker used as his subject, "Self-Justification." It was shown that the whole history of man is filled with alibis, excuses and side-stepping the issue. The very first thought man seems to have when called into account is that of justifying himself for anything he might have done or failed to do. Adam began in the Garden of Eden, when he indirectly accused God of being responsible for his sin by having given him Eve. He then brought out a long list of excuses and alibis people offer for not being Christians; people out of the church and in the church. These attempts at self-justification will be ineffectual at the Judgment it was shown.

An audience that taxed the main floor and balcony heard Mr. Wilmeth last night in his closing address on "Now the Best Time to Become a Christian." God's time for becoming a Christian is today. There is no suggestion that tomorrow will do. The evangelist based his discourse on Paul's sermon to Governor Felix in Acts 24:25, to which the governor replied, "When I have a convenient season" I'll get in touch with you. That season never came. Also when King Agrippa intimated that he was almost persuaded to become a Christian, but did not, he lost his last opportunity to do so. And, so far as history is concerned these men both died without God or hope.

The whole church joins in the one conclusion that we have had a great meeting, and the churcn is greatly edified and will reap the harvest more and more as teh days go by. The evangelist in his own inimical, quiet and impressive way, carried his audience right along with him in every service.

There were several accessions to the local congregation, and many others were deeply impressed and were loath to see the meeting end. So we take courage and press on to greater things in the service of our Lord.—Church Reporter.

TRINITY UNIVERSITY CHOIR BE PRESENTED CORSICANA, APRIL 28

The Trinity University Choir of Waxahache, acclaimed by many as one of the finest singing groups in Texas, will be heard here on April 28, at Third Avenue Presbyterian church.

The Trinity University Choir was founded in the fall of 1936 by Alton Clay Pierce, head of the department of music. In the spring of 1937, the choir made its first annual tour of 1100 miles, singing in the following cities: Dallas, Clarksville, Texarkana, Jefferson, Nacogdoches, Jacksonville, Paris, Athens, and Corsicana. The tour was an unqualified success, and the singers attracted much interest to themselves and to Trinity University.

In response to requests received from many churches throughout the synod, the itineraries for the tours of 1938 and 1939 were greatly enlarged, and the choir sang more than 50 concerts, traveling over 4,000 miles.

The present ensemble consists of 36 undergraduate students of Trinity University. Its success is attributable to the untiring efforts and the co-operation of every member of the organization. The music chosen for performance is richly varied, including many popular negro spirituals.

C. L. MATTHEWS, JR., NEW LOCAL DEALER NASH AUTOMOBILES

Appointment of C. L Matthews, Jr., 221 West Collin Street, as dealer here for the Nash Motors Division of Nash-Kelvinator Corporation was announced today.

Matthews stated in connection with the announcement of his appointment that one reason why he selected the Nash agency was that the Nash automobile broke many sales records during 1939 in addition to selling 71 per cent more cars, against an industry gain of 40 per cent. Nash is also making a drive in the low-price market this year with an extra large, but economical high-powered car, offering a number of driving and construction features generally found in only much higher-priced cars, he added.

He will handle the complete new line of Nash cars, which consists of 18 models in three series—the Nash LaFayette De Luxe, the Nash Ambassador Six and the Nash Ambassador Eight.

Kentucky Judge Failed Get Check But Bank Paid It

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 15.—(AP)—The $250 check that came in the mail was made out to W. H. Fields. W. H. Fields cashed it. Then Circuit Judge W. H. Field, wondering where his pay check was, inquired and warned:

W. H. Fields thought the money was a lump-sum payment from the unemployment compensation commission. He spent it.

The state revenue department said the bank would have to stand the loss. The bank said the state would, because there was an "s" on the name. W. H. Fields said as far as he was concerned the matter was closed. Check and doublecheck.

CONGRESS

large the $655,000,000 naval expansion bill in the face of "spreading" war abroad would have "the whole-hearted support" of the navy department.

Stark, chief of naval operations and first witness at senate naval committee hearings on the expansion proposal, was asked by Senator Tydings (D-Md) whether the authorization, providing for 43 new vessels, should not be increased.

"That would have our whilehearted support," the witness replied.

"I dont' think we should take the chance of delay,"Tydings remarked. "I think we should get busy and build some ships."

"That is the way we feel, sir," Stark responded.

Tydings suggested a 25 per cent fleet expansion, as contrasted with the 11 per cent increase provided under the pending house-approved legislation.

With the war abroad "spreading," Stary said, "I feel that, so far as we can, we should take such measures as may be necessary to prevent its spread to our domain, either now or during the uncertain future that confronts us."

The naval chief said that while the pending expansion legislation was acceptable to the navy department, it was the minimum expansion which should be authorized since other nations were building more combat ships at a faster pace than the United States.

"From the sentiment of the country," Stark testified, "I hope and I think we are going to keep out." but he added:

"It has been our experience that, in the past, we have entered every war unprepared."

Walsh Favors Adequate Navy.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(AP)—Senator Walsh (D-Mass), chairman of the senate naval committee, said today the United States could be reasonably secure in these troubled times only "if we are able to maintain control of the seas."

His audience was made up of approximately 2,000 delegates to the 49th annual congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution, a patriotic organization traditionally in favor of a strong army and navy.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(AP)—The controversial Logan-Walter bill to standardize procedure of federal agencies claimed house attention today, starting a busy week which will be climaxed with debate over wage-hour amendments.

The Logan-Walter bill ould authorize review by the courts of decisions of the government's 100 administrative agencies and would make uniform their regulations and orders.

The fight over its enactment centers on opponents' charges that the legislation would impair the efficiency of some quasi-judicial divisions. Rep. Walter (D-Pa), the house sponsor, said in reply:

"We are not trying to hamstring anybody. All that the bill would do would require these agencies to follow certain general, reasonable yardsticks.

"Of course, that might result in curbing occasional abuses of the discretionary power that songress has to vest in them.

"It can never be admitted in this country that the administrative bureaucrats shall control the legislative and judicial branches of this government."

The senate is devoting the week to secondary legislation, but the house gradually is reaching some of the most heated issues of the session. Its consideration late this week of three sets of proposed changes in the wagehocr law will be a prelude to a major battle over revising the Wagner labor act.

ticularly potatoes, butterbeans and cowpeas, also were damaged.

Losses to uncovered bean and tomato crops in Mississippi were estimated by Extension Editor F. J. Hurst to range as high as 30 per cent. Texas Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald placed the damage to the corn crop of his state at approximately 10 percent, adding that some harm was done also to gardens and to the sorghum crop.

Tennessee strawberries and peaches were nipped. Little damage was reported in Arkansas.

The frost line barely touched northern Florida and the rich vegetable areas of the state escaped the cold snap.

COMMISSIONERS

bridge department be conducted on a business-like and efficient basis," he continued.

Judge Huffman then pointed out the commissioners court did not surrender any powers of perogatives under the plan, but merely delegated details of carrying out policies fixed by the commissioners court to a competent and technical engineer.

Judge Huffman said Harrison county carried out its program on a county-wide unit system. He pointed out that the commissioners court decided what roads were to be improved, and what bridges were to be constructed. He said the engineer was responsible to the commissioners court and the employees were under the direction of the engineer. The Judge pointed out substantial savings were had by competitive bids received by the engineer for materials, etc. A bookkeeper keeps track of the costs per unit of equipment, with a central warehouse, gas storage, machine shop and lumber storage facilities. He made the statement that the number of outfits of machinery had been decreased in his county and that the cost had been reduced 25 per cent. He warned the audience that machinery salesmen would spread propaganda against this system as it cuts down sales.

Roads Worn Out.

The Harrison county judge said that the gravel roads provided for in a bond issue in 1916 had already been worn out. He warned that the people should be very slow in voting bonds for any project, and if they do so, should see the bonds do not extend longer than life of the project. He declared that under the unit system in his county since 1935 there have been 160 miles of gravel and 55 miles of oiled roads constructed. He pointed out that under the precinct commissioner system, all funds are used from year to year for maintenance and there is no new construction.

County employees in the road and bridge system have been reduced from 74 to 47 in number, while the gravel trucks have been increased from four to ten. He declared under the system, Harrison county believes a county-wide system of county all-weather roads will be provided with every county road either graveled or oiled.

Questions Asked.

When questioned by Commissioner J. N. George of Blooming Grove about the special road law applicable only to Harrison county, Judge Huffman said the special law allowed the employing of the engineer (a thing allowed under the general law), and the further provision that materials, etc. could be purchased in Harrison county without advertising for bids in newspapers before the purchases were made. Judge Huffman added, however, that he believed that the advertising for bids in newspapers was a good thing for commissioners courts to observe.

He said there was a provision for $3 per day road tax per citizen, but added that this did not add $100 per year to the road and bridge fund. He added, under a question asked him, that convict labor is used for persons convicted of misdemeanor offenses working out fines. They are used principally in filling gravel trucks and similar work, rather than being allowed to lay out the fines in jail.

Under a question asked him by Commissioner C. O. Slaughter, Judge Huffman estimated that about half the gravel was loaded into the trucks by convict labor. D. D. Sawyer of Dawson, former county commissioner, asked about gravel, etc., on black land roads. Judge Huffman said an engineer was necessary to determine what type of all-weather roads were best for particular soil formations.

One of the citizens asked that each county commissioner be allowed to express his views on the proposal, but Manager Knight of the Chamber of Commerce, interposed with the statement the Chamber of Commerce was responsible for the meeting and what transpired, and declared his organization did not desire to put the commissioners court on the spot, and that it would be unfair to ask the court to commit itself at the present time.

County Judge Paul Miller replied: "Don't worry, we know we are on the spot."

Harrison County Engineer Henderson stated that frankly he could not answer what type of road was best in the black land as he had had no experience, but added that the highway department had made tests on oil and asphalt soil stabilization. He declared he had not come here for any political reasons, but was interested in county government. He said it was necessary to increase efficiency in the county government or we will have the government located more and more in Austin and Washington with increased taxes.

Increased Efficiency.

He declared the Harrison county plan was nothing to get excited about, but merely putting the road and bridge work under one head with increased efficiency.

He said to buy in quantity and save money, and then added that his county was purchasing bridge timber at $17.75 per 1000 feet, while gasoline is secured for a fraction under 9 cents per gallon, and with the state 4-cent refund, a net price of slightly less than 5 cents per gallon is the cost.

The speaker said the employees resided in various sections of the county, but reported to the central warehouse for duty each day. He said the report that all heavy machinery was brought to the central warehouse each week was erroneous and would be uneconomical. The engineer said maintainers should be used for dragging, with tractors and graders used only for construction work, pointing out the fast rate required for dragging will wear the heavy machinery too much. He pointed out that Harrison county uses one maintainer for each 200 miles of road and that the 1940 budget for road and bridge purposes is $120,000. The Navarro county road and bridge budget was quoted at $122,000. Navarro county has in excess of 1,000 miles of county roads while Harrison has about 900. There are 750 miles of school bus routes in Harrison county.

The streets of the smaller communities have been oiled, he said.

Proposal New.

After a question was asked why surrounding counties had not adopted this plan, the speaker said it was a new proposal. The county south of Harrison was said to be on script. The one to the north is retiring script while the county to the west, Gregg county, had "so much money it doesn't make any difference" with approximately $750,000 available.

Henderson said sixty large timber bridges had been constructed, and no mention was made of numerous culverts, etc.

W. V. Mowlam, Corsicana city engineer, said the highway department and the City of Corsicana is using oil asphalt stabilization very successfully, and referred to Highway 22 east, Highway 31 west and a road to the city lake here.

Sparks McKay, Mexia, connected with the Texas Highway Department, said an experimental road on the highway north of Coolidge had been so successful that the road was being extended northward.

Suggests Vote.

Engineer Henderson suggested that when all the information had been secured, the question of a unit system be submitted to the people and be governed by their votes.

Judge Huffman said that under the old system, the big boys politically got whatever they wanted done on the roads, but now the 48,000 citizens of Harrison county are treated alike. When questioned about trouble on the project by certain commissioners, the judge asserted that it was not the system under fire, but an effort on the part of certain Dallas and Fort Worth labor elements which sought to unionize the county employees. This action would have prevented farmers getting work on the county system. He declared he fought and won over such a proposal.

Manager Knight said there was an undercurrent of feeling in some quarters that the proposition was an effort on the part of Corsicana to get the benefit and run the county. He said the Chamber of Commerce had decided to ask for a central purchasing and unit system be instituted for Navarro county, but denied any effort to take any advantage of the remainder of the county, and if it was not for the interests of the county, it should not be adopted.

Henderson said the salary of the engineer and bookkeeper was saved on purchases by one head, and that under the old system in Harrison county, there was no check on the gas and oil used, with oil and gas having been found going to people's automobiles. That has been stopped, he said, and with the unit system, they know how much oil it takes to operate a machine a day and only that much is issued. He said Harrison county stopped employees taking county owned trucks and cars to their homes at nights and this prevented considerable visiting and riding around at nights at the county's expense. He made it plain, however, he knew nothing of local conditions, but was given only the experience of his county.

Distribution

Judge Huffman, answering discussion relative to unequal distribution of road and bridge funds, declared that last week a supreme court decision was handed down that road and bridge expenditures and distribution was to be done according to need and need alone, and not according to the way the taxes were paid into the treasury. (Navarro county precinct 1 gets 29 percent and the other three 23 2-3 percent of the road and bridge funds).

When several present wanted a vote and definite decision on the matter, Manager Knight declared that everyone connected wanted to be fair, and asked that "we do not go off half-cocked" in the matter. He said the meeting was an educational one, and said the Chamber of Commerce was not attempting to cram the project down anyone's throat, but desired to acquaint the people with it and take the necessary time to arrive at the correct decision. He voiced the opinion that Navarro county could use $35,000 per year for permanent construction of roads from the present revenues under the system.

No date was announced as to when the court would make a decision, or when the next meeting will be held. Some indicated another session would be desired in about two weeks.

STOCKHOLM

Kornsjo, only to retire later.

There were reports, however, that despite determined German efforts to clear out all resistance between Oslo and the Swedish border 30 miles away, Norwegian troops still were clinging to positions between Mysen and Kongvinger.

A recapitulation of reports indicated that the Germans had occupied most of the territory within a 50 or 60-mile radius to the south, west and north of Oslo.

Many Points in Nazi Hands

Frederikstad, Sarpsborg, Holmestrand, Kongsberg, Drammen and Kokksund, all south or west of the capital, were reported in nazi hands. North of the city the Germans were said to be holding all the area to Lake Mjosen, including the towns of Jevnaker, Lillestrom, Romerike, Honefoss and Idsvold.

German troops also were reported to have occupied Elverum, which is about 35 miles from Oslo and north and slightly to the east of Lake Mjosen.

The villages of Hamar and Gjovik on the northern shores of Lake Mjosen were bombed intermittently by German warplanes, and the area was virtually abandoned by civilians.

Sweden itself remained quiet and fears of involvement in the struggle appeared to be easing. That the nation's armed forces are on the alert, however, was emphasized yesterday when Swedish anti-aircraft batteries opened fire on a three-motored German plane which flew over the Uddevalla military barracks, and brought it down in flames.

An unknown number of the crew was killed. One of the airmen was taken to a hospital.

Several hours earlier a German Junkers plane had made a forced landing near Grebbestad on Sweden's west coast. The crew of three was interned.
